

People see black & white they're obsessed, love or hate.
The truth is that things doesn't exist only in their polarite (black or white) There are colors. Often arranged in color combinations which in other hand are creating for more sophisticated models.
They represent complex logical or emotional ties.
You have to implement this wide range color mode in your mind in order to expand your horizons and capture the alternatives.
It could happen only if have a multi point of view. In fact-a real one. Tumblr is the virtual hamburger. You think you've experienced the things there but you didn't
